Warrington Solicitor Promoted to Partner

Warrington solicitor Jennifer Roulston has been promoted to partner at legal practice Forshaws Davies Ridgway (FDR), after four years with the firm.

Jennifer, who is based at the FDR office on Walton Road, Stockton Heath, specialises in family law and advises clients on divorce, separation, children, co-habitation and financial matters.

Before joining FDR, Jennifer spent several years working for a specialist family law firm in Preston and Blackpool and gained a law degree from Hull University and her post-graduate solicitor qualification from the Chester College of Law.

Her appointment to partner marks the first for Forshaws Davies Ridgway since its formation two years ago – the result of a merger between two leading Cheshire law firms to create one of the largest legal practices in the North West.

Senior Partner Norman Banner commented: “Jennifer is an exceptional family lawyer who has shown the skill, dedication and drive to become a partner. With legal services undergoing unprecedented change, it is important we continue to reward excellence and embrace new thinking and ideas. We are confident Jennifer will make a significant contribution to the future development of the practice.”

Jennifer added: “I am delighted to have accepted a partnership with a firm that puts the local community at the heart of everything it does. Despite increasing competition in the legal sector, I believe clients still want a professional service from legal experts with the knowledge and experience to provide accurate, up-to-date advice.”
