Invitation to Free Business Buddy Event

If the answer is “yes”, come and find out more at a free ‘Business Buddy’ lunchtime event at Could your business benefit from some expert guidance to help you improve and expand?

The Heath Business and Technical Park in Runcorn on Tuesday 26th January at 12 noon.

Organised by Halton Chamber of Commerce, in partnership with ‘Enterprising Halton’, the Business Buddy mentoring scheme aims to provide free support on a one-to-one basis for small firms around the borough, not just Chamber members.

The scheme is being led by experienced business entrepreneur and former Knowsley Chamber Chairman and Enterprise Champion, Tim Dugdill.

He explained: “The project is designed to give all small businesses, especially new and fledgling firms, access to experienced business people who will act as mentors. They will not be substitute financial advisors or trainers but will be able to offer unbiased and constructive advice to enable firms to improve and become more successful.

“The event is designed primarily for businesses interested in benefiting from a buddy link, but potential mentors are also very welcome to attend too.

“Our role is to connect people and help smaller firms raise their game for the benefit of the whole community.”

If you would like to attend the free event, which includes a presentation followed by lunch, please book a place by contacting Nicola Holland at Halton Chamber on 01928 516142 or email nicolah@haltonchamber.com.
