

'Time of My Life'* by Alan Ayckbourn

Wed 13th – Sat 16th May 2015

An embarrassing family dinner is on the menu as Kingsley Players present their latest popular show and supper productions – Alan Ayckbourn's Time of My Life. The setting is a restaurant and the play will be performed in the round, with the audience seated around the actors.

Director Malcolm Barker, who previously directed the Players' production of Ayckbourn's Communicating Doors, explains: "Time of My Life is one of his very best and is an inventive piece of theatre. It's an odd, wonderful and funny show, with a lot of heart, and some very serious moments. Like all his great plays, it makes you think, feel and laugh all in the same scene, often in the same moment. It's another 'time' play and although it takes place in the present day, some characters are in the future and others in the past. All this happens on the same set. It's a wonderful stunt and works beautifully theatrically, creating a real sense of excitement as the story unfolds before you."

Venue: Kingsley Community Centre.
