

Kingsley Players

Whodunit?

Murder Mystery comes to Kingsley

Wed 12th – Sat 15th March 2014

There's more than a nice cup of tea brewing at the vicarage as Kingsley Players take to the stage in March with Norman Robbin's popular whodunit - "And Evermore Shall Be So".

A murder mystery with a touch of humour, the play is inspired by the traditional song "Green grow the rushes O". The story explores events surrounding a murder which took place four years previously. How strangely the song lyrics seem to fit the circumstances...

Director Colin Smith explains: "The action focuses on the repercussions felt when there is 'something wrong with the village... a sense of evil about'. An author, cousin of the vicar's wife, comes for a visit, having been encouraged to write a book about the murder. Old tensions and suspicions are brought to the surface and not everyone is in favour of raking up the past."

Wed 12th - Sat 15th March, 7.30pm. Venue: Kingsley Community Centre. Tickets cost £7/£8, bookable in advance through the website www.kingsleyplayers.co.uk or by ringing the box office on 07925 516760.
